Are grid constraints hampering solar deployment in Hungary?

PV deployment is gathering pace in the EU member state but grid capacity shortfalls and unpredictable shifts in government policy need to be addressed if the nation is to harness its full solar - and European energy security - potential. Grid constraints are hampering the roll-out of large scale solar in Hungary.

What happened to Hungarian solar power plants?

In October, the Hungarian government introduced a provision for small, household-sized solar power plants that fundamentally transformed the Hungarian solar market. Since Oct. 31, the aforementioned, sub-50 kW, grid-connected household systems could no longer have a grid connection and could only be used for self-consumption.

Are government policies restricting foreign investment in Hungary?

However, analysts warn that government policies are restricting foreign investment, while grid capacity shortfalls could stunt the country's rapid rise. Hungary deployed 1.6 GW of solar in 2023, according to new figures released by the Hungarian government.
