Should you start a solar business?

Starting a solar business doesn't necessarily mean you'll need a crew up on roofs installing panels. If sales is your thing, there are many businesses that focus on just that. These companies do all the work of selling solar systems: getting leads, qualifying them, doing in-home or virtual consultations, and getting the customer to sign.

Do you need a salesperson for a solar business?

Salespeople are the backbone of most solar businesses. Regardless of your niche, chances are that someone on your team is making at least part of their paycheck knocking on doors and making phone calls. When seeking out a salesperson, here are three elements to consider when vetting your candidate pool:

How do solar salespeople get paid?

Solar salespeople are usually paid by commission. Commission payouts are usually paid as a percentage of the total contract price or as a cut of the base contract price. Commissions have various pros and cons. On one hand, they can motivate your teams to work hard.

SolarPro is a lead generation program where accredited partners bring prospective clients for rooftop solar projects to SolarSquare Energy. These clients can be reached through using existing networks (both professional and personal), social media promotions or in-person outreach.
