How will the family Islands solar power system work?

Development of the four solar-fueled power systems will set the stage to scale the Family Islands solar program across the island chain's outlying islands, as well as contribute to the Bahamas achieving a national goal of renewable energy resources meeting 30% of electricity needs by 2030.

Does solar make sense in island conditions?

Solar just makes sense in island conditions. Dependence on imported fuels, high electricity costs, increasingly devastating storms, and an urgent need for improved grid resiliency makes solar a clear choice for island nations and territories over the world. Solar just makes sense in island conditions.

Can solar power help Puerto Rico achieve energy independence and resilience?

The Puerto Rican islands of Vieques and Culebra will study the feasibility of achieving energy independence and resilience using rooftop and community solar power. DOE partners with these islands to provide renewable energy.

What is the islands energy program?

In addition to the Bahamas, the Islands Energy team is in the midst of assisting Caribbean island governments and utilities in five other jurisdictions craft and carry out clean, renewable energy transition: the British Virgin Islands (BVI), Belize, St. Lucia, St. Vincent and the Grenadines and Turks and Caicos. Three pillars support the program.

Can solar power be used in the Bahamas?

The experience was a substantial help for installing the Bahamas' largest solar array at Chub Cay. Caribbean businesses on the island contend with exorbitant electricity prices, poor reliability and poor air quality from diesel-powered generators. Solar is a viable alternative at less than half the cost of conventional sources in the Caribbean.

Is the Caribbean a good place for solar energy?

Land is scarce but water is abundant for the Caribbean's 700 islands. Solar economy professor Christian Breyer tells pv magazine that the region's archipelagic makeup is not a drawback but a benefit for renewable energy generation, with the ocean potentially serving as the area's floating solar PV backbone.

The International Solar Energy Society forecasted that areas that don't record waves larger than 6 m or winds stronger than 15 m/s could generate up to one million TWh per year through offshore...
